To the Parishioners of St. Joseph on the Brandywine:

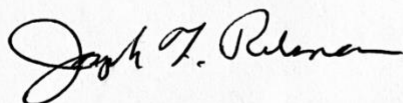

I am pleased to announce the hiring of Mrs. Jessie Curtin as Coordinator of Religious Education for St. Joseph on the Brandywine Parish, effective September 23. Our search for a replacement for Eva Lyons has been under the direction of the Diocesan Office of Religious Education and our parish search committee, chaired by Mary Beth Russell.

Jessie is a native of New Castle, Delaware, and has had 18 years of personal Catholic School Education in elementary (St. Peter the Apostle) and secondary schools (St. Mark's) and college (Catholic University of America). Her bachelor's degree is in English Language and Literature, and she earned her Master's of Arts in Teaching from Wesley College in New Castle. Jessie and her husband Dermot, a psychologist and Villanova University graduate, are parishioners at St. Ann's, where their daughter, Caitlin, is enrolled in the parochial preschool.

Jessie comes to us with a strong background in religious education. She has nine years of experience teaching in Catholic schools, both parochial and private, as well as a year in public school. This experience has spanned grades kindergarten through 12 and has included curriculum planning and the diocesan Mentoring Program. She is also skilled in scheduling and writing.

We are happy to welcome Jessie to the St. Joseph on the Brandywine staff.

Sincerely in Christ,

Msgr. Joseph F. Rebman, V.G.
Pastor
